The SEO Growth OS checklist

What the system checks, what each check looks at, the information it needs, and whether it can repeat on a schedule or needs a person to review it.

This is a list of checks, not an audit. Requesting it does not run anything on your website. Which checks apply depends on your business, the tools you connect and the data available. Website changes are always reviewed and approved by you before anything goes live.

This checklist describes what SEO Growth OS is designed to cover, including the checks and monitoring activities, the information they need and where a person needs to review them. Available checks and automation are confirmed during setup.

Can repeat repeatable once the required tools, access and schedule are configured and tested; it does not mean every part runs unattended Manual review needs a person to judge or approve When needed run around a specific event or request

1. Website health

Is the website reachable, working and easy for search engines to read?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Crawl access and indexing signals	Robots rules, noindex tags, canonical tags and status codes on important pages	Your public website; Search Console for Google's index state	Can repeat
Broken links and redirects	Links that fail, and redirects that chain through several steps	Your public website	Can repeat
Sitemaps and discovery	Whether important pages are listed in your sitemap and reachable through links	Your public website	Can repeat
Page speed	Lab tests on key pages, plus real-visitor speed data where Google has enough of it	Your public website; Google's field data where available	Can repeat
Forms, navigation and devices	Whether key journeys, such as an enquiry or booking, work on phones and desktops	Your public website; test submissions only with your permission	Manual review

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Structured data validity	Whether page markup is valid and free of errors	Your public website	Can repeat
Structured data accuracy	Whether the markup is accurate and suits the page; new or changed markup is drafted for your developer to review and test	Your public website and your knowledge of the business	Manual review
Images and alt text	Missing image descriptions and media that slows pages down are flagged automatically; whether a description is useful needs a person to judge	Your public website	Can repeat Manual review
Launch and redesign checks	Before-and-after comparison around a redesign, migration or release, to catch regressions	Your public website; deployment details where available	When needed

2. Search performance

Which pages and searches bring visibility and visits, and how is that changing?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Search Console review	Which pages and searches bring impressions and clicks, compared across reporting periods	Access to Google Search Console	Can repeat
Page and search match	Whether a page matches what people searching for it actually want	Your public website and Search Console	Manual review
Competitor and opportunity research	Which competitor pages appear for your topics, and where the gaps are	Third-party search data, which may have its own cost	Manual review
Backlink review	Who links to you and to competitors, investigated only when there is a reason to	Third-party link data, which may have its own cost	Manual review

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Local search and maps	For local and service-area businesses: profile details, categories and local visibility	Your Google Business Profile, plus location-specific search observations or a suitable tracking tool where required	Can repeat
Online store listings	For product businesses: product pages, product markup and Merchant Center issues	Your public website; Merchant Center access	Can repeat
Language and country versions	For sites in more than one language or market: whether each version is set up correctly	Your public website	Can repeat

3. Content

Do your pages explain what you offer and answer the questions customers ask?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Page basics	Titles, descriptions, headings and links on important pages	Your public website	Can repeat
Content quality and freshness	Whether pages answer real customer questions clearly and are still accurate	Your public website and your knowledge of the business	Manual review
Site structure and internal links	Whether important pages are easy to reach from related pages	Your public website	Can repeat
Draft recommendations and briefs	Suggested page changes and outlines for new or updated pages, prepared for your review	The findings above; your approval before anything is published	When needed

4. AI visibility

Can AI tools understand your pages, and does your business appear for the questions that matter?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Answer suitability	Whether key pages give clear, direct answers that AI tools can understand and cite	Your public website	Manual review
Google AI visibility	Whether your business appears in Google's AI features for an agreed set of questions, recorded as dated observations	An agreed question list; some tools may have their own cost	Can repeat
Mentions in other AI tools	Whether other AI assistants mention or cite your business, and whether what they say is accurate	An agreed question list, access to the selected AI tools, and dated responses and citations	Manual review

5. Measurement

Can the figures be trusted before anyone draws conclusions from them?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
What counts as a result	Which actions count as an enquiry, booking or sale for your business	A conversation with you	Manual review
Tracking that actually fires	Whether analytics events work as intended, not just whether they are configured	Google Analytics and Tag Manager access	Manual review
Consent behaviour	How tracking behaves when visitors accept or decline cookies	Your public website	Manual review
Matching analytics to real records	Whether enquiries in analytics match your CRM, booking or sales records	CRM or booking access, with your permission	Manual review
Data quality	Test traffic, filters, time zones and date ranges that can distort reports	Google Analytics access	Manual review

6. Progress

What changed, what is still open, and what needs your approval?

CHECK	WHAT IT LOOKS AT	WHAT IT NEEDS	REPEAT
Change record	A dated record of findings, recommendations and what was changed	Built from each run	Can repeat
Change verification	Whether an approved change was put in place as intended	Your public website and any connected data	When needed
Monitoring and alerts	Repeating agreed checks and flagging regressions or notable changes	A schedule set up for your site	Can repeat
Recurring summaries	Short updates on what changed, what remains unresolved and what needs approval	The change record	Can repeat

How findings are organised

- Each issue is grouped as broken, missing or underperforming, with shared causes combined.
- Priorities weigh severity, opportunity, how strong the evidence is, risk and effort, without combining them into one number.
- There is no overall score. Checks that could not run are listed as missing evidence, never estimated.
- Every recommendation includes a way to check whether it was done.

What it does not do

- Promise rankings, traffic or AI citations.
- Publish website changes without your approval.
- Run without setup and the data access each check needs.
- Fill gaps with estimates when data is not available.

Want these checks set up for your business? I can help connect your data, configure the checks and set a schedule around your website and goals. Enquire at helpmemarketing.com/contact.

SEO Growth OS checklist · HelpMeMarketing · Ankit Kumar, Halton Hills, Ontario · November 2026.